

The first ammendment is there to protect the speaker (XM radio), not those who the speaker offends or in this case, competes. Just because XM had a great idea of offering traffic and weather, and a uncensored lineup of channels that are far better than the garbage that is on local radio today, they should not be punished. As a matter of fact, now that I have XM, I could care less about the local broadcast stations that have more commercial than broadcasting. DO NOT take away XM radios freedom of speech. Hell, i'm paying for it, so stay away.
